

The 100 shops you must see

Experts around the world pick Bloomingdale's, Selfridges – and a trendy boutique in Glasgow

By Graham Hiscott
Consumer Editor

THE top 100 shops in the world – including a Glasgow boutique favoured by the stars – were named and praised yesterday.

Alongside internationally renowned stores such as Bloomingdale's of New York is fashion, food and lifestyle specialists Fifi and Ally in the up-market Princes Square.

Pop star Sharleen Spiteri, TV presenter Natasha Kaplinski and TV makeover couple Colin and Justin are among its customers.

Shop co-founder Fiona Hamilton said: "We're delighted. We're trying to bring a bit of individuality and personality to shopping."

Also representing Scotland on the list is specialist store James Houston Furniture of Clarkston.

The shops were chosen by leading figures in the retail industry.

Overseas choices in the survey by Retail Week magazine include a North Carolina supermarket called Bloom and the Barcelona foodie's paradise La Boqueria.

The 100 best shops in the world,

ONE IN A HUNDRED: Fiona Hamilton and Alison Fielding's Fifi and Ally has made the list of top shops