

RIP IT & CLIP IT

NEW SHOPS

Happy noses around the latest outlets coming to a town near you

McNally
Find fresh inspiration at McNally
Bag £119 and charm £18 CCBags at McNally
Wedges £270 Terry de Havilland at Sera of London
Parasol £80 Sera of London

GLASGOW
Fifi and Ally
"What Space NK is to cosmetics, Fifi and Ally will be to lifestyle and accessories," claim co-owners Fiona Hamilton and Alison Fielding. Showcasing established designers and fresh talent from the UK, Europe and the US, the store is aimed at those who like to hunt out individual statement items, be it a belt, a fragrance, a vase, a painting or a piece of fabulous jewellery. Look out for ceramics by Jonathan Adler and Hanna Tonek plus exclusive toiletries by Miller Harris. Top Floor, Princes Square, 48 Buchanan Street, Glasgow G1 3JX (0141 229 0386)

HARROGATE
McNally
With its assortment of clothes and accessories from Denmark, France and Australia, McNally brings an international flavour to Harrogate. By sourcing items from up-and-coming labels such as

LEEDS
Brora
Dubbed the "Knightsbridge of the North," the Victoria Quarter in Leeds is the ideal location for the first Brora store outside London. The company, famous for its classic cashmere with a modern twist, has a loyal customer base both within Britain and abroad. As well as its trademark colourful tweedets and ballet style wrap cardies look out for limited edition, vintage, crochet knits

LONDON
Sera of London
From boutique hotels to exclusive nightclubs, interiors guru Sera Hersham Loftus's private clients are familiar with her exclusive boudoir-style creations. Now we can all buy into Sera's sensual styling at her first shop. Sales assistants wearing 1950s cocktail dresses guide you around the store's four rooms, finishing in an opulent railway carriage. On your tour, check out the Sera & Zuber Lacey Haven wallpapers, recovered antique ceiling fans and some rather rude lampshades in the form of corseted curves, before perusing the Terry de Havilland shoes and Damaris lingerie. 3 Lonsdale Road, London W11 2BY (020 7467 0799)

Miller Harris
Miller Harris Coeur de Fleur EDT £28 and Shower Wash £16 at Fifi and Ally

Stand out from the crowd at Fifi and Ally

Cashmere wrap cardie £154 Brora

A world of wonderful wools at Brora Leeds